THOUSANDS of people have sent an impassioned message to county hall from the school gates: save our lollipop ladies.

A 9,000-signature petition was presented to council leaders ahead of crucial talks that could see 85 school crossing posts phased out in the county during the next 14 months

The high profile march saw dozens of parents and children voice their frustration at the Dorset County Council cuts that would save £200,000 but would ultimately cost lives according to demonstrators.

Weymouth Holy Trinity School pupil Poppy Case handed the petition to DCC's vice chair, Councillor David Crowhurst on the steps of county hall.

IN a special 60-second interview this week, year six pupils from St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis have used their newly learnt journalism skills to grill their own headteacher Ms Annabelle Grose.

After a visit from View from Bridport reporter Tom Glover pupils from year six, studying news papers and journalistic writing, put their skills

After the interview Ms Grose said: "I think they did very well, their note taking was their chal lenge because it's difficult for them to listen and get the main message but they did it very well and they helped each other by making sure they had all written down the key words.

"They all asked a question and they all took down the key notes so they shared it out very well between them. I think they know me quite well and they had thought about their ques-

■ ANNABELLE Grose, 38, has been head-teacher at St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis since September last year.

Having trained at Exmouth's Rolle College Ms Grose has spent time at school's in Plymouth, Honiton and Charmouth before taking up her first headship last year.

When not teaching Ms Grose is a dedicated member of the Lympstone South West Telecoms Band who she regularly competes with playing

HOW long have you been a teacher?

Well, I have been a teacher for 15 years. This is my 16th year of being a teacher.

HOW many schools have you worked at and what were they called?

When I was a newly qualified teacher I worked in Littletown in Honiton, Branscombe CE VC, Charmouth and Whitleigh Community Primary in Plymouth. So this is the fifth primary school I have worked at.

■ WHAT is your favourite subject in school and why?

My favourite subject is English because I really enjoy sharing ideas especially as they are all individual ideas. When I taught in one of the schools, one particular girl was amazing at English, in fact she thought in a way that I didn't. I was inspired by her. We learnt from each other. She shared her thinking and all of us progressed. So I have always listened carefully to children's thinking.

WILL you make any big changes to the school and if so what?

Yes I would like to make a learning link with the local community. We will also have strong national and alobal links

Also I don't think that lessons always have to be inside school, that they can be outside of school as well, in shops, offices, work places, fields, the beach, the museum, anywhere really.

Long term I would like us to be an environmentally friendly school.

WHAT inspired you to be a headteacher?

I always had a strong vision of ideas for schools, I love seeing children getting excited about their learning and I think being a headteacher is the best job to make learning amazing.

HAVE you ever taught in a different country or culture?

Yes I taught in Uganda for just a week. Their knowledge and understanding is very different from UK children. They have a wonderful drive and aim for the best.

HOW long have you been in a brass brand?

Since I was in year six so that was 27-years-ago. I played in four different brass bands and I played the Tenor Horn in all of them. I still play now. Music is very impor-

WHAT is your favourite part of being a headteacher?

I like being able to communicate with the parents and community for the benefit of the children

IS this the biggest school that you have ever

No, at Honiton, Littletown there were roughly 420 children there

DO you like the fact that we have easy access to the church?

Yes because it is a very special place and it is lovely to be able to use it. I like the fact that it has lots of opportunities to use it in the future. It is important that our children benefit from our church links.

IS this the job you wanted when you were younger?

No first I wanted to be a weather lady (Meteorologist) then a nanny and then I realised that I could be a

Students go to the polls

will be going to the polls today as election fever takes hold of the town's young people.

Bullying, job opportunities and campaigning for "relax rooms" are at the heart of manifestos of five students vying to represent Dorset at this year's UK Youth Parliament (UKYP).

Amelia Chorley, Alfie Lumb, Dan Thomson, George Timms and Tom Easterbrook are amongst the record number of candidates hoping to receive their peers votes

UKYP is a national organisation that gives 11-18-year-olds opportunity to get involved in national and local decision making.

Standing for the Dorchseat, Thomas Hardye pupil Alfie has been campaigning for busting relax rooms.

He said: "If I am elected I am going to stand for combating stress during exam times by campaigning for relax rooms where students

"I would also like to see more job opportunities for young people with regards to the up 2012 coming Olympic games. I think young people should not be left out of this."

Fellow Dorchester seat hopeful, St Osmund's Amelia outlined fairness and equality for all in her manifesto.

She said: "Everyone is different in their own special way, and everyone should have the opportunity to make the most of their abilities. I think that bullying and discrimination is wrong, that is why fairness and equality is one of my three main points.'

Candidate for Weymouth Tom Easterbrook is hoping his pledge to improve the media image of young people will get him re-elected.

He said: "We are often portrayed as yobs and thugs when this is only a small proportion of young people.'

St Osmund's pupil Dan Thomson, hopes to take the Dorchester seat with his manifesto of more youth centres and better sporting equipment.

He said: "There should be more youth centres and clubs in school so that young people can mix and meet in a safe environment The youth centres and clubs should also start earlier and end earlier."

Dorchester Middle School pupil and candidate for Dorchester George Timms said: "Firstly I would like to make public transport free until the end of fulltime education.

"Secondly I would like to enable the fee use of sports facilities such as leisure centre as this will link up the governments policy of a healthy lifestyle and give young people a place to go."

Last year, three MYP's and three Deputy MYPs young people voted in the Dorset election.

The election was organised in partnership with the Dorset Electoral Administrators Group, to ensure the process was as close as possible to a real election.

As well as running their own campaign, each candidate has produced video manifestos which have been compiled onto a DVD shown around schools and youth cen-

The results will be announced at a special ceremony at County Hall in Dorchester on Thursday,

The three candidates with the most votes will be elected as MYPs for Dorset this year. The fourth, fifth and sixth place candidates will be made deputy members.

The elected MYPs will take part in national and regional sittings of the UK Youth Parliament.

They will also sit on the county youth council known as DYCE (Dorset Youth Council Enables).

Give your orchid an MOT

AN AWARD-WINNING orchid grower will be giving free advice and orchid MOTs at a garden centre in Dorset this month.

Chris Channon, a Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) gold medallist, will be hosting an orchid day on February 12th at Poundbury Gardens in Poundbury, Dorchester.

Chris said: "I'm delighted to be hosting an orchid day at Poundbury Gardens in association with Growth Technology, one of the UK's leading suppliers of plant nutrition products.

"Orchid days give orchid lovers the opportunity to find out how to best look after their plants as well as have any queries answered.

"People are welcome to bring their own orchids along during the weekend. I'll be able to give them a free orchid MOT at the orchid clinic and diagnose any problems they may have, as well as give handy 'dos and don'ts' on how to treat orchids when they're not at their best."

Chris will host an "Orchid for Beginners" talk at 11am. He will then do a re-potting demonstration from 2.30pm.

Chris has teamed up with Growth Technology and Vice Chairman of The British Orchid Council, lan Parsons to offer customers the best care and advice for the plants for the company's website. Growth Technology's Sales and Marketing Manager, Manos Kanellos explained: "We think it is vitally important to take proper care of orchids. Therefore, through our work with Chris and Ian, we have come up with the three top orchid care tips - Water: don't over water. More orchids are killed by over watering than anything else, so it's important that you leave an orchid until the roots and compost are almost dry before watering

Feed: orchids benefit from a correctly balanced and quality feed, however it's important to water between feeds. They don't like a build up of salts in their growing medium so it's vital to flush an orchid with water before feeding again to avoid any

Shade: keep orchids in the shade. In the wild orchids grow under the jungle canopy and are

Funding boost to preserve Hardy's birthplace

A GRANT to promote Dorchester's most famous son to visitors and residents has been awarded.

Plans to improve visitor facilities near Thomas Hardy's birthplace at Higher Bockhampton have moved a step closer with £40,000 of development funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF).

The first-round pass award to Dorset County Council and the National Trust will be used to further progress the plans to enhance the visitor experience at Hardy's Birthplace and the nearby Thorncombe Wood.

DCC and the National Trust can now move to the second stage of the HLF application process, where they will be seeking £400,000 of HLF support towards the costs of the proj-

The project would offer visitors an introduction to Hardy's birthplace and a learning space for school groups, alongside refreshment and toilet facilities.

Hardy's birthplace - the cottage at Higher Bockhampton where the novelist and poet was born and wrote some of his earliest work - is owned and managed by the National Trust.

Helen Mann, National Trust West Dorset Property Manager, said: "Our intention is to present Hardy's birthplace in an engaging and informative way to bring to life the story of one of our literary geniuses.

"We would like to use the project to introduce more people to Thomas Hardy and his writing and relate it in an imaginative way to the surrounding landscape. We also want to create new volunteer, learning and training opportunities for a range of people.

A 26-hectare site of ancient woodland, featured in Hardy's writing, is now owned and managed by the county council's Dorset Countryside

Hamish Murray, Dorset County Council ranger service manager, said: "This is the ideal project for the partners. By working together we can achieve so much more than if we acted separately. A holistic approach will ensure benefits to all visitors, volunteers and staff and improve the way we manage Thorncombe Wood and the associated heathland."

Plans for improvements to visitor facilities and interpretation are at an

Detailed work to develop the proposals will be done over the next

A planning application and second round application to the HLF are due to be submitted in 2011. If the project secures both HLF funding and the necessary match funding, the new facilities would be set to open in

High tech monitoring system should improve patient care

PATIENT care is set to go hi-tech with the introduction of early warning system at Dorset County Hospital.

The system will inform doctors if a patient is getting sicker by analysing up-to-date information before sending immediate alerts. Nurses are due to swap paper charts to record data such as pulse, temperature and blood pressure for the VitalPAC electronic system by the autumn.

Information on patients' vital signs are fed into a handheld computers at the bedside, meaning data is automatically analysed, before identifying priority patients using an early warning score.

An urgent alert is given if the score reveals the patient to be in need of immediate medical attention.

Once the data has been recorded it can be assessed by any clinician from anywhere in the hospital.

Dr Andrew Ball, DCH's clinical director for Critical Care Services, said: "This system will ensure we identify deteriorating patients quickly throughout the hospital.

"The information can be accessed anywhere within the hospital so we will always know where the sickest patients are. It means we can pick up deteriorating patients earlier and ensure they receive appropriate treatment.

"It is a very user friendly system and is well-liked by staff in hospitals where it is already in use, so the implementation should be straightforward. We hope to have it up and running throughout the hospital by the autumn."

DCH bosses hope the system, designed by healthcare improvement specialist The Learning Clinic, will bring efficiency savings as time-consuming paper-based systems will be phased out and bed management will be improved.

The VitalPAC system also allows staff to quickly and easily see which patients are due to arrive in hospital and which are ready to go home.

Chris Milliner, The Learning Clinic's site manager for Dorset County Hospital, said: "When patients come into hospital, they want to know that they are always going to be monitored closely, fully and accurately. They want to know that if they get sicker, the change is going to be immediately identified and they are going to be quickly reviewed and treated by their doctor or a specialist. VitalPAC helps do all of that. It also means doctors and nurses spend less time filling in paperwork and more time with their patients. Quite simply, it improves patient

'Blood on their hands'

PARENTS, pupils and councillors stood shoulder to shoulder against proposed cuts to school crossing patrols

March organiser, Weymouth mother Helen Toft who runs a daily Walking Bus service to Holy Trini ty School, said: "I called for the march because it's children's lives that will ultimately be put at risk.

"The whole belief they [DCC] can save money by endangering children is wrong.

"They want children to exercise and say they should get out and walk to school and yet the money to protect them is removed; it's just silly and unnecessary.

"What surprises me is the one or two people who say they agree with the cuts because the council has to save money and children are the parents responsibility.

"As a parent I cannot imagine how I would feel if my child was knocked down by a car because of government cuts that can be prevented."

"Everybody has said well done and great stuff, they will have to listen now; let's just hope they do listen now."

She added: "I hope that the people continue to write to councillors and say they are not happy about this because a petition makes good headline but it's the individual letters that will make the difference."

The strength of feeling against the proposed cuts was evident as parents and children from as far as Wimbourne, Christchurch, Rawl and Bridport stood shoulder to shoulder waving placards and chanting protest slogans.

Speaking on the steps of county hall, Councillor Crowhurst said he was pleased to receive the petition and would formally present it to the chair of the council at the February 17th council meeting.

He said: "The service is highly regarded at schools and within the community. I was a parent and I am a grandparent and I have to say parents want to ensure their children get to school safely."

He added that the county council would be looking for the community to volunteer to cover the patrois if funding was cut, with DCC financing associated costs, but not salaries, linked to the replacement service

Bridport town and DCC councillor Karl Wallace said: "The county council must not vote along party lines; they have to vote with hearts and common sense to protect kids. It's their duty to safeguard lives and provide safe routes to school.

"This £200,000 can be easily found elsewhere. Stop the [Dorchester] library moving or look at getting rid of directors.

"If we lose this service then there are not enough volunteers, and so the government's so called 'Big Society' is not going to work if they don't provide this service.

"The council will have blood on their hands."

A county council spokesman said they were not legally obliged to provide a school crossing service and added that it was not proposed to withdraw that service, just funding for patrol salaries. If the community could find funding for a patrol then the patrol site would remain "active".

The county council claimed it would only cost £1,000-£1,300 per term should a community wish to take over financing a patrol. Ms Toft claimed self-funding a school patrol would set Holy Trinity School back £10,000 a year.

The county council will meet on February 17th to discuss the proposal to withdraw its funding for school crossing patrol salaries as part of plans to save £54.9million over the next three years.

The council recently extended its consultation period for all of its patrol sites to the end of March 2012 instead of the previous December 2011 dead-

Farewell concert from folk legends

ONE of England's most popular folk groups, The Yetties, said farewell to Dorchester in a combined concert with the Casterbridge Male Voice Choir held in the county town's St Mary's Church.

Turning professional in 1967, their music has taken them far beyond the Dorset village of Yetminster, which was their childhood home and which gave them their name.

They have travelled extensively in Europe and performed successfully across the globe in places such as Singapore, Pakistan, the Maldives, Canada and Ethiopia.

Over the years they have recorded 45 albums and made countless radio and television appearances, but have never lost their genuine feeling for the countryside, often drawing on their personal experiences of country life for their concert programmes.

By Anita Harries

However, Bonny Sartin, Pete Shutler and Mac Mc-Culloch have decided to call it a day and will be retiring in the spring to enjoy a well earned and much needed rest.

A packed St Mary's Church spent a wonderful evening listening to the sounds of The Yetties in their very last concert to be held in Dorchester.

And from the word go they had the audience clapping and singing.

Their fast moving programme was peppered with more than a little humour, a great deal of laughter and more than a few jokes and amusing anecdotes.

Audience participation has always been an important part of any Yetties ception.

There were seafaring songs aplenty, and many old favourites such as The Gypsy Rover, and Dorset My Dorset.

A plethera of instruments appeared throughout, including an accordion, banjo, drum and guitar, and a beautifully haunting Scottish melody, the Piper's Prayer, was played quite brilliantly on the concertina by Pete Shutler.

This was The Yetties at songs and the friendly banter to the wonderful stories and poems of Bonny Sartin. They will be sadly missed.

The Casterbridge Male Voice Choir were also in fine voice.

Choir member Don Ireland said: "We have shared the stage with The Yetties on many occasions over the past few years. And although this occasion is tinged with sadness, we are very much looking forward to sharing it with them for one last time before they call it a day.'

Ending the fist half and opening the second, the Casterbridge Male Voice Choir were superb. Under their extremely talented musical director, Doctor David Knight, they sang their way through an amazing mix of songs from a selection of spirituals to old favourites such as Bridge Over Troubled Water and Bring Him Home from the successful musical Les Miserables.

And not to be outdone by Bonnie and Co. David even cracked the odd joke.

This was an evening of first class entertainment and a fitting tribute to the incredible career of The

Chapel's new altar cloth goes on display

IN 2009 Dorchester Town Council's Joint Burial Committee asked the Dorchester Stitchers if they would like to make an altar cloth as part of the refurbishment of the South Chapel at Dorchester's Weymouth Avenue Cemetery. Never ones to turn down a challenge, the ladies readily agreed, and in September of that year the work began.

Following a design created by Joan Hutson and Rosemary Gameson, the altar cloth gives a real flavour of the rural life of Dorset.

Under the guidance of Rosemary, who chose the stitches to be used and worked on the test pieces, the royal blue cloth was gradually embellished with flowers, insects, and a central wheatsheaf.

Skilled embroiderers worked painstakingly on their chosen flower or insect, and several took it in turns to tack the stems and embellish the wheatsheaf.

As we have now come to expect from this group of extremely talented ladies, the result is nothing short of impressive.

And in another delightful touch, the names of all the contributors have been hand-stitched into a linen plaque hidden away beneath the altar cloth, where it can't be seen but will no doubt be discovered when the cloth is removed in work of art.

In a short dedication ceremony held in the South Chapel, the altar cloth was officially handed over to Councillor Richard Biggs of the Joint Burial Committee. "We have heard much of the Big Society ethos from the government over the past months, but this ethos has been at work in Dorchester for a long time.

"This is a great example of the community working together to produce such an amazing piece of work."

The Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Leslie Phillips, added: "This is yet another superb piece of work by the Dorchester Stitchers to go with all the other examples of their workmanship we already have on show - the Dorchester tapestries, the prayer cushion in St Peter's Church, and the cushions on the chairs of the Mayor and the Town Clerk in the council chamber."

Taking one year to create, the altar cloth had been completed in September 2010, and now takes pride of place on the South Chapel altar.

Rosemary thanked all those who had taken part in this project, as well as the town council and the Joint Burial Committee for giving the Dorchester Stitchers the opportunity to showcase their work once again.

John Foskett then led a short service of dedication.

There are no religious symbols on the altar cloth, making it welcoming to all people, regardless of their faith, religion or spirituality.

He praised the creativity and expertise of the Dorchester Stitchers in designing, making and embroidering the cloth, in the hope and expectation that it will inspire those who come to the chapel along with all who tend the graves.

Renewable energy technology for all

Advertiser's announcement THIS week sees the official opening of the Green Energy Centre in Weymouth. This is the third centre to open in Dorset and will provide renewable energy technologies to everyone in the area.

Antony Jordan, responsible for the centre, says: "With energy prices continuing to soar, there is no denying the fact that there is a desperate need for individuals and companies to be more proactive in becoming greener and investigate the possibility of installing green energy technologies in the home or office.

"Although there are other showrooms trading in renewable energy technologies they usually only demonstrate one or two products.The Green Energy Centre, on the other hand, is unique because it offers a complete range of products which have been carefully nominated and manufactured in the UK.

"This centre provides the opportunity for customers to learn about the vast range of renewable energy systems we offer, from products such as solar electricity or hot water, cavity wall and loft insulation. ground and air source heat pumps, timber framed windows, to low energy light bulbs. We are also Glow Worm approved boiler installers.

Young stars of the future

THE Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Leslie Phillips, went along to Sandringham Court to enjoy an afternoon of youth football.

Prior to kick off, the Mayor was introduced to the players and managers of two under 13s sides, Dorchester Raiders and Dorchester Gladiators, both attached to Dorchester Town Football Club.

With only one league place separating the two teams, it was always going to be a closely fought contest.

The result, in the end, was a well deserved 1 - 0 win for the Gladiators although in all honesty it should have been more.

A missed penalty, an excellent save by the Raiders' goalkeeper, and two more attempts cleared off the line all served to keep the score respectable.

The only goal of the game came from one of the few free kicks, a good long range effort by Dan Morris into the top of the est.

This was a competitive match held in difficult conditions, and affected the ability of players on both sides to play their normal passing game. Both teams played well, with some very good individual performances.

If some of these youngsters continue to develop and are nurtured by the club, it can only bode well for the future of Dorchester Town Football Club.

The Mayor, himself a keen football fan and a great advocate for youth football said: "It is refreshing to see such a well contested match between two excellent teams, both from our county town.

"We can only hope that some continue up the ladder and will become members of the first team squad at Dorchester Town Football Club.

"These youngsters are the future of our club, and every effort must be made to ensure we keep them here."

Cheers for the beer

■ BREWING assistant Simon Nicholson, Piddle Brewery boss Paul Goldsack, drayman Clare Gregory and head brewer Simon wood

SWEETTOOTHED revellers at this weekends Dorchester beer festival will be in for a treat when a local brewer unveils its chocolate flavoured ale.

Piddlehinton's Piddle Brewery is one of the first to perfect a recipe using roasted cocoa beans. The 5.7 per cent Chocolate Box will also partner the brewery's new IPA Lot.

Head brewer Simon Wood has been perfecting the recipes, which includes one originally brewed by George Hodgson in the 1780s (but updated for modern tastes) in preparation for the festival.

Mr Wood said: "The inspiration behind the Chocolate Box came from when I was conjuring up different ideas for new ales.

"I got hold of all the major chocolate suppliers, but they were hesitant to get involved. But I found one company who sent me a lot of magic beans, so I tried to make chocolate beer."

The beer was perfected after getting the nod from Piddle Brewery bosses Rob Martin and Paul Goldsack, whose passion for ales encourages "testing new and exciting styles of beer".

Mr Goldsack said: "From our point of view, we were invited last year to be the main sponsor, so we are delighted to be asked again. We are a young company and to be involved in such a big beer festival is quite exciting."

The sold out Beerex event will see real ale fans from across the county meet to sample more than eighty other ales, ciders and perries whilst helping raise funds for Dorset and Somerset air Ambulance

Have your say on the future of transport in Dorset

Dorset County Council, Bournemouth Borough Council and the Borough of Poole have launched the public consultation on Dorset's next Local Transport Plan – the first for the county as a whole.

The draft includes proposals that have come out of the separate South East Dorset Transport Study, which is being consulted on at the same time, as well as measures to help towns and rural areas across Dorset.

From West Dorset to Oman

PORTLAND based travel photographer Geoff Moore has just returned from a fact finding and photography trip to Oman in The Middle East.

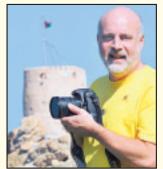

Joining some 90 other professional travel writers and photographers all members of The British Guild of Travel Writers and Photographers, the group toured various parts of the oil rich country visiting tourist sites, hotels and taking part in special 'experience' facilities laid on by their Ministry of Tourism at places all over the country.

The Sultanate of Oman which is around the size of the UK has a population of around 3 million and has launched a tourism initiative to encourage visitors to think about the country as a destination from here in Britain. South of Saudi Arabia and adjacent to The Straights of Hormuz, the coast is washed by the warm waters of the Gulf of Oman.

Geoff of Dorset Media Services said: "During the five day stay we had time to visit a whole range of places like the old Arab style forts that pepper the hillsides, drive through the wadis - deep canyons that at some times of the year run with torrents of water - or drive over some of the massive sand dunes that can be found there. At only 20 pence per litre getting around is not expensive.

'As well as the tourism visit, our organisation held its AGM at a brand new hotel with its own marina; sailors from the country will be at the Sailing Academy in Potland over the next two years.

"Working as travel writers often do, alone, it's a great chance to meet others,

swop ideas and learn about travel related news and forthcoming trends. With the current political news about Egypt and Tunisia, destinations like Oman could well be thought about as an alternative as it is very stable and safe to travel there.

"Oman is not that well known. Travelling around was easy as the roads are very new, with hardly any traffic away from the capital. The people are friendly and welcoming and it is very traditional in the older Arab sense; it's not glitzy like the Emirates nearby or over developed in the tourist sector. I shot nearly 1,500 pictures on the trip so the work really starts when you get back from such tours as they all need to processed on the computer and captioned, which can take many days."

More thought for mental health

A NEW card scheme to help people affected by mental illness, and those who support or care for them, will be launched in Dorset next week.

Leading national mental health charity Rethink is introducing the innovative new card scheme in partnership with Dorset County Hospital. The scheme aims to make everyday situations easier for carers and mental health service users, by allowing them to communicate a simple message quickly, clearly and confidentially.

Carer and Independent Carers Forum member, Julia Terry, explained where the idea came from: "A carer was taking her husband for a chest x-ray. They were in a busy department when the radiographer called the gentleman's name and asked him into a cubicle to remove his coat, shirt and jumper; not an unreasonable request to make of a healthy-looking 60 year old. But, for this particular gentleman, it was a frightening situation; he began to panic and his wife had to quickly explain that she would need to assist him.

"The waiting area was crowded and her comment had attracted the interest of a number of people. She hoped the radiographer would understand the situation without needing further explanation; she is not ashamed of her husband's mental health problems, but did not want to embarrass him by describing them to the whole room. There was an awkward pause while the two ladies struggled to communicate, until the radiographer responded in a sensitive way and took them both through to the room. Every mental health service user and carer will have had similar experiences, many of them far more traumatic than this."

The Rethink card is designed to be subtle yet easily recognisable. The same size as a credit card, it accommodates useful information, such as contact details for carers, as well as room for the individual's personal message.

Ahead of the launch, chief executive of Rethink, Paul Jenkins said: "We are very excited to be launching this innovative new card in partnership with Dorset County Hospital, which has the capacity to make everyday life that little bit easier for people affected by mental illness. Carers and services users can easily find themselves in situations where they feel uncomfortable; being able to communicate a simple message quickly and clearly by using the Rethink card will help to avoid further anxiety and distress.

"We hope that by being open about these issues the Rethink card will become well recognised in the community and also help to break down the stigma and discrimination often attached to mental illness. In order for this card to be a success we are calling on all health and social care professionals to look out for it in their place of work and to be aware of its purpose and benefits. Initially the card is being launched in Dorset but if this proves to be a success we'd certainly give consideration to rolling the scheme out more

The launch of the scheme will be at Dorset County Hospital at 2pm on Tuesday, February 8th in Damers Restaurant.

Roxy turnback the clock

ROXY MUSIC Sunday 30th January Manchester Evening News Arena

ROXY Music have made the odd festival appearance in recent times, but this latest jaunt is their first UK tour for ten years. Those 2001 shows - when the band played together for the first time since 1982 - were to celebrate the group's 30th anniversary. Now it's their 40th.

Roxy is very much a nostalgia act these days, with any new material always being released in the shape of a Bryan Ferry solo album, featuring the odd guest appearance from one of the Roxy gang.

Although founding member Brian Eno features on Ferry's latest album -2010's well received Olympia - he's not here tonight. Which is a real shame, as the setlist boasts enough material from the first two Eno flavoured Roxy albums for him to get his teeth into.

Yes, nostalgia may be the name of the game here but it's not all about the hits. Many people's idea of the band may well be a suave guy in a tuxedo with a set of smooth sounding tunes to which you can literally Dance Away. But early Roxy was significantly edgier, often challenging and not all that often music to dance to either.

Although it might be surprising to find the band going back to their formative years, it's even more of a surprise that half the audience - paying at least £65 for the pleasure - have never heard this material in the first

But the hits are here. It's just that it's an hour into the set before the casual fan could put a string of tunes together that they know. But for the hardcore fan it's bit of a dream setlist. And the audience loves it, with the crowd on their feet from start to finish - even those who seem unfamiliar with Ferry himself looks as debonair as ever even though both his features and vocal chords are beginning to show signs of age. But this is a group of sixtysomethings playing near 40-year-old tunes with enough energy and enthusiasm to put bands a third of their age to shame. The show's classy visuals - a mixture of modern day wizardry and Seventies pseudochic - only added to the vibe.

The evening's highlights included a blistering cover of Neil Young's 'Like A Hurricane', complete with mesmerising guitar work by Phil Manzanera (demonstrating why David Gilmour asked him to join his last touring

Andy Mackay had a chance to shine in the spotlight with - if anyone doubts the art rock credentials - an oboe solo on 'Tara', which couldn't have been a greater contrast to proto-punk rocker 'Editions Of You'.

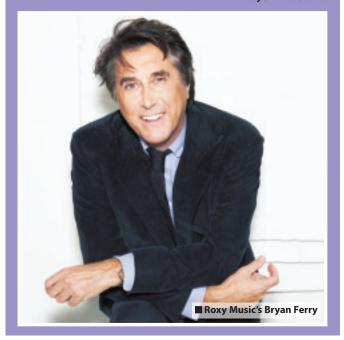

In fact, the setlist could not have been anymore eclectic; from the glamcountry fusion of 'Prairie Rose', the disco-tinged ennui of 'Same Old Scene' to atmospheric piano piece 'For Your Pleasure'.

Even the support acts were unbelievably varied with Dixieland threepiece Hot Club Of Cowtown following the excellent London ska outfit, No

Roxy Music may no longer be a creative force in terms of new music, but as a live act they're still a powerhouse.

• Roxy Music played: The Main Thing / Street Life / Pyjamarama / If There Is Something / Prairie Rose / Just Like You / Amazona / 2HB / Like A Hurricane / Tara / Bitter Sweet / Sentimental Fool / To Turn You On / Same Old Scene / My Only Love / Avalon / Jealous Guy / Virginia Plain / Love Is The Drug / Editions Of You / Do The Strand / For Your Pleasure

Ure Uncovered

MIDGE Ure really needs no introductions; his career speaks for itself. Grammys Ivor Novellos, BASCAPs, gold and platinum discs and a variety of other accolades, including an OBE can all grace his mantelpiece.

By the time Midge Ure's single "If I Was" went to No1 in 1985 he had already crammed several musical lifetimes into a 10 year professional career speaks volumes - Silk, The Rich Kids, Thin Lizzy, Visage, Ultravox and of course the most famous one off group in musical history Band Aid had by then all had the guiding hand of his musical navigation.

Midge is the master of re-invention, secure in the knowledge that there will always be a market for a good song, sung with passion! Equally comfortable in a variety of formats, this time he has chosen to perform an intimate acoustic show combining a selection of his own hits from Vienna via If I Was to Dancing with Tears In My Eyes, with some of his favourite songs by other artists such as Peter Green's Fleetwood Mac and David Bowie.

The "Uncovered" show gives him chance to explore his musical roots and share some of the anecdotes and journeys that his career has followed. Like the man himself, it does what it says on the tin...

Midge Ure is playing at the Electric Palace on Thursday, April 28th. Tickets are on sale now for £18.50 from Bridport Tourist Info Centre on 01308 424901

Poetry for Pleasure

IN December we featured a poem from Dorchester reader, Kay Ennals. Here is another poem from her pen. It gives us a timely reminder of how fortunate we are to live in this beautiful English county.

WILD FLORA OF DORSET

Along the rivers, along the coast the native flora, with colour, boast their flamboyant delicate flowers. The wind-borne seeds of Autumn spread in forest, coppice and hedgerow – hid till the stirring and surging of spring. A blaze of white on a snowdrop hill a haze of blue where the bluebells thrill and cowslip rove by a primrose grove. Wild orchids flourish on marsh and heath casting their wondrous air of mystique to contrast in colour, structure and shape. Helping to cover the woodland floor is the fragile wind flower with helleborine and also pink thistle and celandine. Buttercups show their face to the sun, in the vales of the Stour and the Frome, marigolds bloom - so does bright yellow broom.

Over the heath of purple heather lies a carpet of colour attracting the bees – while, suddenly, blood red poppies arise. In Dorset these flowers are growing wild bringing prestige to our countryside a heritage rich – a premise of pride.

BEFORE we get to Valentine's Day this year perhaps you should consider Thomas Moore's experience of the 'light that lies in woman's

THE TIME I'VE LOST

The time I've lost in wooing, In watching and pursuing The light that lies In woman's eyes, Has been my heart's undoing. Tho' Wisdom oft has sought me, I scorn'd the lore she brought me, My only books Were women's looks, And folly's all they taught me.

Her smile when Beauty granted, I hung with gaze enchanted, Like him the Sprite Whom maids by night Oft meet in glen that's haunted. Like him, too, Beauty won me; But when the spell was on me, If once their ray Was turn'd away, O! winds could not outrun me.

And are those follies going? And is my proud heart growing Too cold or wise For brillant eyes Again to set it glowing? No -- vain, alas! th' endeavour From honds so sweet to sever: --Poor Wisdom's chance Against a glance Is now as weak as ever.

BUT we never learn from the experiences of others do we, as John Boyle O'Reilly was old enough to know when he wrote this verse.

by Frank McGarry

EXPERIENCE

The world was made when a man was born, He must taste for himself the forbidden springs; He can never take warning from old-fashion'd things;

He must fight as a boy, he must drink as a youth, Of the friend of his soul; he must laugh to scorn The hints of deceit in a woman's eyes-They are clear as the wells of Paradise.

And so he goes on till the world grows old, Till his tongue has grown cautious, his heart has grown cold,

Till the smile leaves his mouth, till the ring leaves his laugh, And he shirks the bright headache you ask him to quaff.

He grows formal with men, and with women polite,

And distrustful of both when they're out of his sight.

Then he eats for his palate and drinks for his head, And loves for his pleasure,--and 'tis time he was dead.

The Wolves of Willoughby Chase!

FOREST Forge Theatre Company and the Nuffield Theatre, Southampton, present the Wolves of Willoughby Chase at Lyme Regis' Marine Theatre today (Wednesday, February 2nd).

A thrilling adventure set in an alternative history of England, The Wolves of Willoughby Chase is the story of two brave and determined girls who have to struggle against ferocious wolves, snowy wastelands and a very evil guardian, Miss Slighcarp.

The story imagines that the opening of the Channel Tunnel has led to dangerous wolves roaming Britain. This is not the only danger that cousins Bonnie and Sylvia, and their friend Simon the Goose-boy, must face as they encounter unforgettable characters and mysterious scheming. Reminiscent of Dickens and Edward Gorey, The Wolves of Willougby Chase will be thrilling, funny and spectacular with lush music, animation and innovative staging.

Exhibition and talk at Slader's Yard

STEWART Jones' debut exhibition is the result of five years spending every spare moment painting. He has been a keen collector of contemporary art for many years and has been encouraged by artist friends to set down his own ideas on canvas. The results are graphic and vibrant pictures of the coastal cliffs of Dorset, through the vinelavender fields of France and Spain to the coast of Sicily. Painted in bright uplifting colours, they are full of the sunshine we all yearn for at this time of

Stewart and his wife Jenny lived in Little Bredy near Bridport for twentyfive years and it is only since leaving Dorset that he has found time to develop his fascination with painting. At school, Stewart was lucky enough to have an inspirational art teacher, the painter Bruce Killeen who had been tutor at the Royal Academy Schools and Art Critic for the Guardian. His guidance on the use of space, form and colour form the backbone for Stewart's style now.

Stewart Jones will give a talk on Friday, February 4th at 7.30pm at Sladers Yard, West Bay. Tickets cost £5, call 01308 459511 to book or for more details. The Licensed cafe will be open serving dinner before and after the talk. Booking is advisable. A highly entertaining speaker. Stewart Jones will talk about the art he loves, the places he paints and the techniques he uses. An exhibition of Stewart's work is currently running at Yard Gallery, and will be displayed until March 13th.

Fantastic Wedding Fayre at Fairwater Head Hotel

is holding a major wedding fayre with a full range of exhibitors covering just about everything you could need for your wedding. The event starts at 11.30am and visitors will be greeted with a complementary welcoming drink and canapés, while the first thirty brides will be given their own goody bag filled with helpful advice and giveaways. In addition there's a charity draw with all proceeds going to the local air ambulance while the hotel will also be giving away free copies of their brand new Wedding Guide booklet, filled with useful tips and contacts.

As well as the Fairwater Head Hotel stand holders include MJM Photographic, Otter Valley Video, Bridge Cakecraft, Boldscan Marquees, Sabine Stationery, Louise Walrond Jewellery, Claire Sloane Photography, Frederick Mabb Formal Hire, Canns Formal Hire, ABC Wedding Dresses, Photomagic, Siona Stockel Harpist, Eat

Sleep Cake, Hannah Photography, James Furleigh Estate Vineyard, Eclipse Entertainment, Sarah Case Make Up, Silk Stocking Lingerie, Bolts Hair and Body, Party Cup Cakes, Emily's Chocolate Shop and Elfi Edwards Photographer.

Guests can also visit the hotel's bridal suite which will contain examples from stand holders displayed as they would be on the big day.

Said Carrie Southwell, Proprietor of the Fairwater Head Hotel 'We have concentrated on getting wedding singer to a harpist, handmade jewellery to marquees, make up to wedding dresses and wedding cakes to stationery. We really want to ensure every bride to be leaves the wedding fayre with lots of ideas for her big day'.

The hotel itself is situated close to Hawkchurch the 'village of roses' - just four miles from Axminster and five miles from Lyme Regis so the wedding fayre is easy to reach from all local major centres. As well as the wedding fayre the hotel itself makes a great venue for small intimate weddings and larger parties can take over the hotel or use a marguee in the grounds. Also the hotel now has its own civil wedding licence - what better setting for your wedding.

See next week's edition of this paper for a full double page spread giving the full details of this exciting event on the Devon, Somerset and Dorset border.

Let Frank Property change your view

Allow me to introduce myself, my name is Chris Reed and I am a co founder of Frank Property. Given my passion for property, architecture, design and anything related to the home I was always destined to become an estate agent. I also love to chat, as anyone who knows me can attest to. I have worked in the area as an estate agent for 15 years and have always loved it. Today, I'm even more passionate about property as I am finally doing it exactly the way I have always wanted to, with Nearly a year ago, my family and I moved to Seaton from just outside Axminster. The stars must have been aligning for me because shortly after my move I met Tristan Connell, Frank Properties' co-founder. Tristan was raised in the area and inspired by his up-bringing. has forged his own career as a successful property developer. We shared the same vision for a new breed of estate agency and could think of no better place to launch it than Seaton. Much investment is being poured into the development of our town, building on its great natural assets; such as the stunning coast-line and architecture. No doubt Seaton is changing and we want to be a part of that positive change.

When we opened in September many people felt it was a brave move in this economy. But Frank property was born out of 'this' economy. At this time of uncertainty we wanted to build a local and highly personal estate agency that people could really trust, with an inviting and honely office that people would feel comfortable in. These are some of the things that set us apart, along with our promise to provide a top level, better than expected service to all, regardless of property size or budget.

A month after we opened we took on Rory Brocken. Rory is exactly the kind of person we wanted for Frank. He is local to the area, having lived in Lyme Ba area for most of his life. He's very personable and our clients really like him and whilst he may be a local boy at heart, over the past two years he has traveled the world, working in Australia and The United States; which means he's never short of a good story!

Whilst Rory and I manage the day to day running of Frank Property, we are supported by an equally passionate and very talented team including Chartered Surveyor, James Sims-Williams. James is responsible for our online presence - important given 50% of people looking for a home now look online first!

Since opening we now have over 1000 people visiting our website each month! We also have a top-notch brand and design team, responsible for creating vibrant, interesting and appealing marketing materials at attract buyers.

If Frank Property doesn't look or act like a typical estate agent, it's because, quite simply, we are not. Why not stop in for a cup of coffee or a chat?

Residential Property Types for Investment?

With investments in banks and building societies attracting low rates of interest, our clients are looking at towards the buy to let market. But what bricks and mortar are right for you?

Here are some of our thoughts.

Town or Rural?

- Stronger tenant demand in highly populated areas
- · Possibility for corporate lets in high employment areas • Tenants may pay a higher rent closer to amenities and transport links
- · Tenants in urban areas are often looking for shorter
- One off rural properties can be more expensive
- Rural properties often have more space inside and out-
- · Rural properties are attractive to second home ten-

Large or Small?

- · Large houses are popular with families often looking for longer term tenancies
- Large properties can be costly if unoccupied
- Some tenants are put off larger properties because of

Elder&Frov

& Speak

- Broader market for smaller properties. Rising divorce rate means more single homes wanted
- The recession means fuel bills are of bigger significance now than before
- Buying 2 small properties may mean a higher rental return

Old or New?

- · Generally there is greater capital growth with older properties
- Getting an older property up to the standard for a rental property can be expensive
- There can be limitations on bringing listed buildings up to standard for letting
- Higher utility bills for tenants of older houses
- · Lower maintenance costs on a new build
- Brand new properties often include white goods · Rooms can be small in new developments

Toyota Verso named safest MPV of 2010 by Euro NCAP highest score of any MPV in 2010 Euro NCAP crash testing · Headline five-star allround rating supported

- 89 per cent result for adult occupant safety
- 75 per cent for child occupants
- 69 per cent for pedestrian impact
- 86 per cent for safety assistance

The motor industry has made huge advances in safety in the past few years, but it's Toyota that's built the safest MPV, according to Euro NCAP's test results for 2010.

In March last year Toyota's seven-seat compact people carrier was given the top five-star rating for all-round safety performance by Euro NCAP, the industry's benchmark testing organisation. More than that, Verso achieved the highest combined percentage scores in each test category of any MPV subjected to the independent crash test and assessment programme.

Specifically. Verso achieved an 89 per cent score for adult occupant protection, 75 per cent for child occupants, 69 per cent for pedestrian impact performance and 86 per cent for safety assistance.

The results reflect the tough quality of Verso's design and construction, including detailed features in the front end that help minimise injury risks to pedestrians – features that are gaining increased importance in Euro NCAP's testing calculations. By 2012 a minimum 60 per cent score will be required in this category in order to secure an overall five-star rating - a level Verso has already comfortably exceeded.

In the UK all versions of Verso are equipped as standard with seven airbags, ISO-fix child seat mounts, ABS with Electronic Brakeforce Distribution (EBD), traction control (TRC), steering-assist Vehicle Stability Control (VSC+) and Hill-start Assist Control (HAC).

The consequences of envy turn Peugeot's latest media campaign into a prizewinning 'whodunit' triguing adverts on Radio, TV and in the national press over the coming weeks, Peugeot's "Beware the Consequences of Envy" media campaign is a thrilling "whodunit" that will earn one lucky sleuth the keys to a brand new Peugeot 207 ENVY special edition.

Of all the seven deadly sins, envy is perhaps the most destructive and this certainly proves the case in the campaign, which sees the owner of the latest Peugeot 207 ENVY attract the wrong sort of attention from green-eved colleagues, friends, family and neighbours.

Matters come to a head in spectacular fashion in the middle of the night in the TV ad but mystery surrounds the whole affair; just like the best soap operas, we see and hear tantalising snippets without ever getting quite enough to uncover the culprit. With the help of the Peugeot Facebook page however the clues do eventually add up.

Visitors to the page at www.facebook.com/peugeotuk can weigh up the evidence and 'vote' for a series of suspects. Those picking correctly will be entered into a prize draw to win a Peugeot 207 ENVY.

The first clues in this interactive multi-media campaign are playing on commercial radio stations now and they will be joined by a TV advert from 1st February, with spots in Coronation Street and Law and Order UK on ITV and Shameless on C4. The Facebook page goes live from 21st February and there is a range of digital, mobile and national press activity running throughout the first quarter of 2011, so there is plenty of opportunity to build a case.

There are ENVY special editions available on the Peugeot 107, 207, 308, 3008 and 5008 models, each adding alloy wheels and air conditioning plus enhanced comfort features such as tinted windows and Bluetooth Connect to an already impressive level of specification. Available in a wide range of colours and with a big choice of engines, there is an ENVY model to suit all

Finally, "ENVY" owners can really rub it in by taking their car through Peugeot's unique Just Add Fuel® personal finance package, which wraps up all the major motoring costs - vehicle cost, insurance, warranty, roadside assistance and servicing - into a single monthly payment that is fixed for an inflation busting 3 years.

Eastern Area - semi-final Exmouth Town Res 5 Farway 0

FARWAY United's long awaited County cup area semi-final was switched to Exmouth Town Reserves' Ground to avoid another possible postponement at Farway's picturesque but notoriously troublesome Eastlee Park.

The hosts took a fifth minute lead through Luke Smith and never looked back Smith bagged a second and there were further strikes from Dave Cooling (2) and Josh

ARTHUR GAGE CUP Round One Lyme Regis Res 2 Winsham 4

LYME Regis Reserves' grip on the Arthur Gage Cup was prised open by Winsham United in an entertaining first round tie at the Davey Fort.

The Seasiders, still smarting from last week's 10-1 embarrassment at Millwey Rise, clearly went into the game as underdogs against a side destined for the premier division

There was little between the sides in the opening quarter-hour but two goals in two minutes gave the visitors a stranglehold on the game that theywere never to lose.

First Sam Symes capitalised on some hesitancy and lack of communication in the Lyme defence to poke Winsham ahead.

Soon after the visitors' top scorer Tom Stead doubled the lead with his 14th goal of the season leading to fears of another drubbing $amongst\ Seasiders' supporters.$

But the hosts dug deep and forced their way back into the game. Lyme gave a debut to left-winger Steve Battrick, a new signing from Bridport, but it was gritty performances from fellow midfielders Danny Thirlwell, Steve Batey and Harvey Brimicombe that gave the hosts a

The Seasiders pulled a goal back when referee Bryan Perryman awarded a penalty for a foul on Batey. Batey himself took the kick but Winsham 'keeper Chris Scott pulled off a fine stop and kept out the follow-up effort from the midfielder. But Brimicombe finally converted the third attempt.

The scored were tied on the hour when the hosts were awarded a second penalty when Brimicombe was carved down near the touchline. This time Jason Hawker took the responsibility and made no mistake for his sixth goal in Lyme colours this season.

The parity lasted just seven minutes when Symes notched his second and the burly Stead did likewise 15 minutes from time and there was no way back for Lyme.

Millwey Rise 5 Norton Athletic 4

MILLWEY Rise were surprisingly taken to extra-time after leading struggling Norton Athletic 3-0 at half-time.

Goals from Nathan Wormesley and a Sam Dibling's 18th and 19th goals of the season saw Rise apparently easing through to the last

But an amazing turnaround re-

Rise travel to Crewkerne Town in the pick of the quarter-finals.

Beaminster 5 Ilminster Res 1

BEAMINSTER extended their unbeaten run to eight games and moved up a place to second with an impressive 5-1 hammering of fading Ilminster Town Reserves.

The Rainbows, missing defenders Andy David and Dan Taylor, led through a Murray Legg strike at the interval.

Tom Fletcher doubled the lead soon after restart but the visitors struck back with a rare attack on the hour which resulted in Ritchie Middleton putting through his own net.

Undetered, Beaminster upped a gear and Sam Crocker ensured there would be no repeat of last week's performance against Merriott when two points were squan-

Legg notched his second from close range after an incisive run and cross from 16-year-old winger Josh Baker. And the young debutant rounded things off with the fifth near the end. Beaminster's title hopes remain firmly on track, the same cannot be said for Ilminster who suffered their third successive HAWKCHURCH Reserves' player-manager Greg Harding donned the goalkeeping gloves after regular 'keeper Dave Carter was forced off with a leg injury in the 20th minute.

And Harding, better known for his exploits at the other end of the field where he has scored more than 450 goals, had a busy afternoon as visiting Shepton Beauchamp netted seven times.

Star man for a well-beaten Hawkchurch side was Martin Staples.

Byerley gets Rogers' reign off to a flier

Zamaretto Premier - Att: 535 MARTYN Rogers made a winning start as Weymouth boss as Warren Byerley added another two goals to his impressive tally this season in an emphatic victory over fellow strugglers Hale-

The former Tiverton Town manager has been busy since his appointment almost three weeks ago bringing new players to the club, and on Saturday he included all six new signings in an attempt to keep the Terras Zamaretto Premier Division survival hopes alive.

It was the last of Rogers' additions, Charlie Clough on loan from Bristol Rovers, who gave Weymouth the lead before Byerley scored twice in the second half, one a penalty, to take his tally for the season to twenty in all competitions.

The victory puts Weymouth just a point behind their Midlands rivals, but with Rogers old club winning as well, it leaves them five points from safety.

Weymouth completely dominated the game and it took the visitors 85 minutes to threaten Terras on Ioan keeper Nick Jordan and then Rory Curtis didn't hit the target, heading over the top from a free kick.

Weymouth took command from the whistle and Ben Gerring headed over almost immediately before Byerley struck the top of the crossbar with a header from Jamie Beasley's cross in the

Such was Weymouth's pressure that they forced eight cor ners in the first half hour as Halesowen hung on like a punch drunk fighter. They finally breached the Yeltz defence on 39 minutes when another debutant Charlie Clough headed Beasley's cross just inside the far post from eight yards.

Yeltz keeper Simon Flower did well to keep out on-loan Scott Rogers effort when Matt Groves headed down Beasley's cross immediately after the restart, but he could do nothing out Byerley increasing the Terras lead three minutes later.

Another former Dorchester player, like Groves, he did well to hold off Alex Roofe as they chased a headed ball out of the Weymouth defence, before turning him and curling a superb right foot shot beyond Flower and just inside the right hand Frustration set in among the Halesowen side as they struggled to contain Weymouth and Michael McGrath was booked for a poor challenge on Rogers, followed by Gerring in the ensuing melee and Jamie Hatch soon after.

Byerley put the game beyond the Yeltz on 71 minutes with the perfect penalty after Flower flattened Groves as he chased a ball into the box.

Rogers reflecting on his side's performance said: "I was delighted with the attitude of all of the players, not just the new ones, but of all the team. It was pleasing to get a win under our belts but we still have a lot of work ahead.

"I am not anticipating that we will suddenly move up the table, I would suggest even with success that we will be in and around the bottom for the next month.

"However if the lads can show the same commitment as they did today then we can succeed. I think the fact that it took 85 minutes for Halesowen to have a shot shows the players wanted to win; regardless of who you are playing it takes some

On whether it was a gamble to play all six new signings at once, with most of them having hardly met their colleagues, Rogers said: "It's not a gamble when you are in the position we are. Doing it when you are top of the league is a gamble, but I had no option. At the end of the day we had to improve; the squad we had here was not good enough and we needed a change and quickly, and they came up trumps."

Rogers paired Byerley, who has been a sensation this season, with on-loan Dorchester striker Groves, a player who has been a thorn in the Terras side in the past which has earned him some harsh vocal treatment from the Weymouth fans.

"Warren is playing at the top of his game at the moment. He is confident and works hard and looks like he can score at any-

"Groover is a hard worker and has lots of ability, and they showed on Saturday that they can play together and create chances between themselves.

"As far as rivalry, at the end of the day a lot of players move clubs locally, and I don't think the fans will mind as long as he keeps creating and scoring."

Magpies press self destruct button DORCHESTER TOWN 3 WELLING UNITED 3

Blue Square South - Att: 443MANAGER Ashley Vickers suffered a rollercoaster of emotions as he saw his side throw away another opportunity to claim three points and in doing so slipped back into the Blue Square South relegation zone.

Dorchester pressed the self destruction button as Regan

Coward had one of those days all goalkeepers dread, being responsible for all of the Welling goals, whilst Gary Bowles turned from saint to sinner when having cancelled out the Wings first goal he was needlessly sent-off in the second-half.

Having pummelled Basingstoke in midweek and been mugged by a single goal, the Magpies needed to get something against the high flying Wings, but once again they wasted the chance of victory.

Vickers made one change from that game, giving on-loan

Crawley Town forward Chris Flood his home debut in place of another loanee Jayden Stockley.

For the first ten minutes it looked as if the Magpies had never played together as Welling dictated the early exchanges, and they went ahead on five minutes when Lee Clarke pounced to drive home the loose ball after Coward, under pressure from Andy Pugh, fumbled a low curling ball that bounced in front

They could have extended their lead as Dorchester looked to get out the starting blocks, but fortunately Pugh, looking suspiciously offside, put his point blank header straight at Coward from Joe Healy's cross.

In a rare attack, James Coutts volley from the edge of the box following a Nick Crittenden corner, cleared the angle of the goal frame.

Without looking really threatening Dorchester equalised out of the blue when Bowles beat Loick Pires to Steve Devlin's freekick to power home a header from 8 yards at the near post.

This seemed to kick start the Magpies, and they took control of the game. They went ahead four minutes later when Flood who had a superb debut, held the ball up well before playing in Crittenden. He sidestepped a defender before driving the ball firmly passed Mitchell Walker from 15 yards. It was all Dorchester now and soon after Devlin drove a rasping shot just beyond the far post after he picked up the ball after his corner had been cleared.

However disaster struck just after the half hour when Coward went to the edge of his area to gather a long kick from the Welling defence which was slowly running through to him. But anxious that it may not reach him before the inrushing Louis Cumbers, he was distracted and took his eye off the ball which ran between his legs, to give the Wings striker one of the easiest goals of his career as he rolled it into an empty net.

Kyle Critchell's misplaced pass on the edge of the box gave Cumbers another chance, but Coward successfully smothered his shot before Dorchester once more grabbed the lead.

Ryan Moss, who once again led the line with panache and persistence, fed the ball to Crittenden who tricked a defender on the byline before producing an exquisite cross where Flood got above Graeme Andrews to head the ball over Walker and into the net via the underside of the crossbar.

Welling were then reduced to ten men on 43 minutes when Healy lashed out at Nathan Walker when the Dorchester defender went to wrest the ball off him to take a free-kick, and was promptly sent packing by referee Tim Wood.

Wobbling Welling held on to the break as Dorchester threatened to score again. Moss went close with an overhead kick before setting up Mark Jermyn whose volley whistled over the

Mitchell Walker who also did not distinguish himself in goal at the other end, then got lucky deep into added time when prostrate on his back having been beaten by Flood's shot, the ball took a deflection off a defender and dropped into his

with a pulled hamstring and replaced by Stockley.

A goal up and a man advantage, Dorchester should have felt confident of going on to win the game, and immediately James Coutts cleverly played in Flood who held off a defender but fired over the top. Stockley was then just wide with a header from Devlin's corner.

On the hour Moss outpaced Andrews down the left before cutting in and firing in a shot that had Walker sprawling at his near post to turn around for a corner. Then Coutts fired over after being set up by Moss.

In only their third real attempt on goal, Welling equalised on 68 minutes when Coward could only punch player-manager Jamie Day's free-kick back across goal to give Pires and easy header from close in.

Four minutes later Dorchester were also reduced to ten men when Bowles was red carded for an horrendous double footed tackle on Pires after the referee had already blown his whistle to award a free-kick to Welling when Clarke was bundled over.

With equal numbers Welling put pressure back on Dorchester and after Andrews had headed narrowly wide from a corner, Coward redeemed himself slightly with a flying save from Jamie Coyle's thundering shot.

Walker blocked Jermyn's far post header before he was once again lucky with an identical repeat of the first half when Flood threaded his way to the edge of the box. His left foot shot had Walker beaten, but once again the ball looped off a defender and dropped into the keepers hands as he lay on the ground.

Clarke could have snatched a dramatic and unfair victory it in the dying seconds when he shot wide from 10 yards with just Coward to beat.

Vickers was scathing of his team in the post-match interview. The first half was an absolute disgrace in every way despite coming in leading 3-2, and the second-half wasn't much better. It was Sunday morning stuff, and we're paid to play football at a good level of football. I don't think they were any better than us, in fact I don't think they were as good, so it's disappointing.

"I back my players to the hilt and everyone knows that, but that back. We're conceding too many goals since Christmas, and that's something we can't do. It was a game to forget for Regan; every player has them, but I'm sure he will come back stronger from it."

On Bowles dismissal he said: "It was a moment of petulance and that can only damage your team. We will lose him now for three, possibly four games, because it's his second sending off of the season and it was unnecessary; the whistle had gone

"We were forced to change our shape and formation and move players around to positions they are unaccustomed to and it generally throws you.

I'm a winner and I intend my team to be the same. As a sportsman you need to be able to take constructive criticism and advise, and if you can't, then you won't last long."

One bright spot for Vickers was Flood's performance. "Really excellent; outstanding I thought. He was very good and the perfect foil for Mossy today, and he can only get better with more games under his belt."

Magpies mugged for second time DORCHESTER TOWN 0 BASINGSTOKE TOWN 1 Blue Square South - Att: 304

DORCHESTER Town's relegation worries continued after they were mugged for the second time this season by Basingstoke

Town at The Avenue on Tuesday night; although the goal that won it was worthy of winning any match, a stunning 30-yard left foot volley from Matt Warner. Dorchester produced a string of chances that should have seen them out of sight at halftime with a comfortable lead, but Stoke gave a much better performance after the break to snatch the points that now puts the pressure on manager Ash-

They almost scored within the first 30 seconds but keeper Simon Locke blocked Ryan Moss' shot at the near post, before Kyle Critchell put his header wide from the resultant corner.

After this explosive start the game became becalmed until the 18th minute when Moss' downward header beat Locke but Callum Reynolds on the line coolly headed the ball to safety.

Then Jayden Stockley's acutely angled strike was palmed over the angle of the goalf rame by Locke before he produced another fine save by beating away Critchell's vicious volley from 15 yards. Moss then hit the side netting with a volley and Stuart Lake almost headed in his own net before Stockley was unlucky with a smart back heel that just rolled wide of the post.

Basingstoke best effort in the first half came just after the half hour when Steve Laidler's dink from 20 yards just cleared the Dorchester's arguably best chance came four minutes from the break when Moss and Stockley combined to set up Devlin but he fired well wide from eight yards.

Basingstoke came out after the break in more determined mood and the speedy Delano Sam-Yorke cut in from the left but fired over before he found himself clear when Nathan Walker's attempted clearance rebounded of his own face into the striker's path, but Coward was quickly off his line to palm away his effort.

Then on 54-minutes Warner struck the goal that was to win the match. Receiving the ball wide on the left and with Critchell closing him down, he struck the sweetest left-foot dipping volley that gave Coward no chance at all.

Dorchester fought back and Locke just managed to reach

Moss' looping header and claw it away from under the bar, before Stockley drove just wide of the far post. Locke then bravely denied Devlin and only a superb block from Jay Gasson prevented Nick Crittenden scoring.

With Dorchester pressing forward searching for an equaliser Sam-Yorke hit the post after cutting inside Walker and then Coward produced a magnificent double save to beat away Matt Pattison's angled shot before recovering to deny Greg Draper from the rebound.

As in August it was a case of déjà vu as Basingstoke clung on

Bees shrug off Merthyr blues

KEYNSHAM TOWN 0 BRIDPORT 3

Toolstation Division One - Att: 62

BRIDPORT shrugged off the disappointment of last week's defeat to Merthyr Town to give what manager Trevor Senior described as a "professional" performance against a Keynsham Town side who have already beaten the Bees twice this sea-

After goals from Dan Wise, Adam Symes and Ryan Dovell had seen his side close within three points of second placed Oldland Abbotonians with a game in hand, Senior said: "It's not the best place to come to at anytime in the season, but it was cold and the pitch was slightly frozen, but the lads just got on

"Our movement, passing and decision-making were excel-lent. The running from midfield was good and our defence very solid, and up front we created a lot of chances. Once we had got acclimatised to the conditions after the first five minutes, we dominated the game."

Senior recalled Dovell, who had returned from his belated honeymoon in place of Shane Evans in the only change, and with Jamie Symes still sidelined due to a groin problem he pushed Matt Condliffe forward to partner Dovell

Adam Symes and Russell Legg both impressed individually and in tandem, and from one move between them Legg went close. In a repeat on 36 minutes Legg was brought down in the box and Wise converted from the penalty spot.

Keynsham almost conceded another soon after when Wise and Legg combined. However Dovell's header from Legg's cross hit the crossbar before Chris Clarke did exactly the same from the rebound.

Clarke then went close with a shot but in the 40th minute had to be replaced when he received a dead leg after colliding with Keynsham's keeper Fear as he sent in a header.

The Bees maintained their superiority after the break and added a second on 63 minutes when a mazy run from Legg carried him into the Keynsham box before he poked the ball through to Symes who finished from close range.

Fear kept his side in touch as he made good saves from Condliffe, then a near post header from Symes before an even better stop from Dovell, again from close range. However he was finally beaten again a minute from time as Dovell cut in from the right as Fear tried to regain his position. Despite Wise and Dan Peart being in good scoring positions he took the chance on himself to score from an acute angle.
Sub Alan Hill almost added a fourth in added time after being put through but Fear thwarted him, before the hosts McDermott was dismissed for two yellow cards.

Senior was pleased with the whole teams performance which he rated as one of the best this season, but felt that several players excelled.

Adam Symes and Russell Legg worked very well together, and I thought Matt Condliffe worked really hard and was a

"Ryan Hayter and Dan Wise had their best games of the season, whilst Shane Evans did well at left wing back when he

"Give Keynsham their due, they kept coming at us. It was good to beat them as they have been a bit of a bogey side, and we could have won by more."

Regarding Bridport's promotion prospects he added: "I have said all along that Merthyr are likely to win it, and that it is probably between us and Oldland for the second spot. However there is still a long way to go, and I think it will go to the wire.

The Bees face another tough trip this Saturday to Devizes Town who are currently on a superb run.

"They will be tough; I think they have won eleven of their last twelve; so we will have to be on our mettle. Unfortunately Ryan Hayter is not available due to work commitments, and there are doubts whether Chris Clarke will recover in time.

Bees get Blues over rub of green

BRIDPORT RESERVES 1 PORTLAND UNITED 3

BEES boss Steve Crabb felt his side did not get the rub of the green in going down 3-1 at St Mary's Field in this Magna Dorset Premier League Cup match.

Smarting from a 10-0 drubbing by the Blues in the league at the beginning of the month, Bridport produced a much better performance which Crabb believes with the rub of the green could have exacted revenge. The Bridport joint manager did not understand some of the refereeing decisions, particularly the nine bookings for his side, including two for Jamie Fry resulting in a sending off a minute from the end, or the two for Portland.

"I don't think there was a bad tackle in the whole of the game so I am surprised by his decisions, as I was him turning down our penalty appeal on the half-hour when Tristan Gale was fouled. He then awarded Portland one a minute before the break when clearly by the direction in which the ball travelled, Ashley Clarke got the ball not the man."

The penalty, converted by Adam Linaker was the only goal in a fairly even first-half.

After the interval Bridport bossed the game for the first 20 minutes without creating too much. They then conceded a free-kick just outside the box which was headed home at the far post by Sam Pattison.

Bridport got back in the game when Liam Greatrex deflected Adam Stordy's cross passed his own keeper under pressure from Ben Clarke. The Bees continued to dictate but with time running out they pushed Ashley Clarke up front looking for a goal, allowing Portland to create a couple of good chances, one of which was successful through Ashley Smith to seal the Crabb added: "I was guite pleased with our effort and commitment, and on another day we might have got something out of it. We matched them in most departments, and bossed the game for large parts of it without really creating much. We conceded the third as we went chasing the game."

After some strong results recently, Bridport Thirds disappointingly went down 3-1 to Balti House in their latest Dorset League Division Two match.

PRESTON A provided stern opposition and the absence of Bruce Beal made this a difficult Weymouth & District Table Tennis League encounter for the Gorge's B string.

Jim Saunders was determined to see his side come out on top and pulled out a maximum nine points in a steady performance. Ron Tucknott grafted a more than useful seven and reserve John Moseley's one was enough to ensure that his side could not lose when they reached the doubles at 18-15 up.

Saunders and Tucknott then applied a clinical finish to take the doubles 3-0 and the match 21-15.

New formation a success

Yeovil & Sherborne 2nd 4 Beaminster 2

BEAMINSTER put in another good team performance without reward when they fought back from a two goal deficit at the break, only for third placed Yeovil & Sherborne 2nd's to finally overpower then in the last quarter.

With goals at a premium this season, the West Dorse side reverted to a new formation playing with three forwards, and they certainly had some success.

Captain Ali White, named player of the match, moved forward to the left side of midfield from sweeper, with Emma Davies dropping back into central midfield, swopping places with Julia May who assumed the striker role.

The new formation took a few minutes to bed in but they soon settled and matched their hosts for 20 minutes before Yeovil took the lead from a short cor-

The consortium which includes including former sponsor Harold Doonan have been working tirelessly to save the club following the repossession of the Wessex Raceway in November by owners Wessex Delivery Partnership over unpaid rent.

However despite repeated requests by the consortium to meet with the owners to discuss leasing the track back they have heard nothing, and their chances of racing next season seem bleak when with no representative at the AGM last week, the sport's governing body, the BSPA, confirmed that Weymouth along with Mildenhall and Bournemouth will not be competing in this year's National League.

Colfox girls retain county title

THE SIR John Colfox School's Inter Girls won the county title for the third consecutive time at the Dorset County Cross County Championships held recently at King's Park, Bournemouth.

Beth Letherby led them home in seventh place with Wendy Robertshaw (13th), Anna Roberts-Wray (15th) and Maddy Gape (16th).

The Junior Girls with Honor Slade finishing 15th claimed the team runnersup, whilst the Minor Girls team finished fourth overall, with all four runners closely bunched and finishing in the top 23 with Izzy Tiffin (15th), Grace Butt (20th), Hannah Noonan (21st) and Rebecca Hughes (23rd).

Out of the 44 individual runners that took part, Rhys Kirkpatrick was the highest placed, finishing fifth in the Junior Boys.

The Minor Boys finished 12th out of 22 teams with James Noonan the highest placed in 33rd position, whilst Matt Fry (22nd) was the highest finisher in the Inter Boys.

Overall 10 runners finished in the top 15, and they may have the opportunity to compete for the county in the South West Championships later this

After a slowish start he was soon tucked in behind the leaders, but as the race progressed fell back. However he came strong in the last third of the race and ran on well to claim fourth, and may well now be aimed for the Grand National at Aintree in April.

"The run at Ascot brought him on, and he ran a super race," said Buckler. "He's lost a bit of his speed as he's got older, but he jumped superbly again and stayed on at the end. The additional weight this year of course didn't help matters.

"We're now thinking that he might go for the National, but he needs to win a race to get in."

With three seconds but no win yet, Buckler is expecting Ballyegan to go close at Towcester on Thursday, whilst newcomers Quix and Champagne Rosie are looking to confirm their potential at Wincanton also on Thursday.

RUGBY ROUND-UP

Chidley double edges Puddletown home

rarely rose above freezing point and visitors BRADFORD ON AVON conceded the game to DORCHESTER, while the DE-VIZES/BRIDPORT game fell victim to a frozen pitch, I decided to stay close to home and ventured to Bridport to take in their second team's fixture with Puddletown in the Dorset & Wilts League Division Two (South).

As the Dorchester first side's game had been called off, it was a strong Dorchester second side that faced strugglers Fordingbridge seconds. In fact Dorchester proved to be far too powerful for this opposition, running out easy winners

The Dorchester third side also played at home, and they too recorded a win albeit a much narrower one. They came out on top against visitors Oakmedians thirds by a single BRIDPORT 2nd 13pts, PUDDLETOWN 18ptsTHE visitors faced the stiffish breeze initially and Bridport had the better of the early exchanges. In fact they turned territory into points when they kicked a penalty goal from in front after just five minutes.

In spite of this reversal I felt that Puddletown were looking the likelier unit and a few minutes later they put together a good handling movement from set piece possession that was finally stopped scant yard short of the home line.

They kept the pressure on however and Bridport were penalised in front of their own posts in turn, with full back Dan Udell kicking the goal to tie the scores at 3-3 after 15 min-

The Puddletown effort received a set back almost immediately however for they lost hooker Yeatman to the bin for an illegal tackle. His side continued to have an edge in his absence however, and could well have taken the lead around the end of the first quarter, but their penalty kick from the twenty two slid wide.

It was Bridport who regained the lead on the half-hour however when, after they had taken ball at the line out and mauled effectively, they released, and one of their centres cut a good angle to get over halfway out.
The try was unconverted and Bridport led 8-3. The score-line remained the same until the change round, and I felt that Puddletown would have been the more satisfied side Although Puddletown took a lead that I felt they deserved early in the second-half, the actual score had a hint of good fortune about it. They were awarded a penalty near half way and decided to kick at goal. The kick fell short but was knocked on by a Bridport defender and a scrum five yards from the line resulted.

The home side then fringed off side and, from a guick tap. Puddletown's lock forward and skipper, Chidley, crashed over. Udell duly added the extras to give his side a 10-8 lead with five minutes of the second-half gone.

The visitors were enjoying a decisive edge forward at this stage and spent some time on the Bridport line, finally making a foray down the narrow side of a five yard scrum to very good effect, that ended with Chidley touching down his second of the afternoon. This one remained unconverted but gave Puddletown a 15-8 lead.

The home side had been using their strong bench to good effect and, after a knock on from the restart had given them an attacking opportunity, they imposed some pressure, ran back a speculative kick out of defence and their right winger stood up his marker and got over in the corner. The extras could not be added and the score now stood at 13-15 with Bridport now really back in the game. Puddletown continued to have their edge forward and, with some 15 minutes left for play, they moved out of penalty goal range with Udellís third successful place kick of the game. Bridport, to their credit, tried to mount something of a rally. They were forced to attack from deep however and, in spite of coming under occasional pressure, the Puddletown defence coped until the whistle for no side sounded to notch a win that was, I felt, deserved.

The home side, although they scored two good tries, were on the back foot for much of the game in the eight, and fell off rather too many tackles for their own peace of mind.

OAKMEDIANS 2nd 25pts, WEYMOUTH 8pts

WITH the home side's first team game falling victim to the weather, Weymouth, in all probability, encountered a tougher task than they were expecting.

The fact is however that they did not play well, in the first-half anyway and, by the halfway stage, Oakmedians were Weymouth did however, take the lead with an early Peplow penalty goal, but this was just to flatter and deceive.

Their lineout did not function. They lacked any aggression at set scrum time and, although they generally pride themselves on their defence, fell off too many tackles. Oakmedians took full advantage, scoring four tries before the interval. They converted one of them and led 22-3 at half-time.

The home side further extended their lead by kicking a penalty goal early in the second-half and, almost immediately after this, the game was delayed owing to an injury to

In fact it eventually resumed on a different pitch. The change of venue seemed to help Weymouth for they played rather better subsequently. They could not change the result however and, although Joe Gibson reduced the deficit when he got over in the corner late on, it was 'too little, too late and Oakmedians ran out comfortable winners.

BLANDFORD 2nd 8pts, WEYMOUTH 2nd 10pts

WEYMOUTH seconds edged this encounter by two unconverted tries two one, but had to come from behind to do so. The home side held a half time lead at 8-3, scoring an unconverted try and a penalty goal, with Weymouth replying with an unconverted effort from Les Moon.

They scored a second effort, through Ian Critchell this time, in the second half and, with the home side not able to respond, held on for the narrow win.

PREVIEW

THE game of the day on Saturday next takes place at BRID-PORT where the home side takes on near neighbours DORCHESTER with local bragging rights at stake.

Now traditionally local Derbies tend to the unpredictable and often throw up surprise results, but I do not think this encounter will do so.

Dorchester are cruising along, very much in the top half of the Southern Counties league (South) table, and playing attractive rugby, while Bridport currently reside in a relegation place and are encountering difficulties.

I would say however that the visitors do have trouble holding focus for the full eighty minutes, tending to pause for tea and buns, so to speak, during the third quarter. If they do so on Saturday then Bridport can cause problems. I do not think this will happen however and I take Dorchester to win this one with a bit to spare.

The earlier game at Dorchester was a high scoring one (34-engaged in a rather closer encounter, for they take on NORTH DORSET 2nd at home.

Their opponents edged the earlier fixture by 29-20, and this one has all the makings of a nail biter.

Much will depend, I think, on the performance of the home defence. Having been a real factor in the clubis success, it fell from grace rather during the first half on Saturday last and it can ill afford to do so again.

I take the home side to put last week's reversal well and truly behind it, and to come out of this one with a win. There won't be too much in it at the whistle for no side though.

As for PUDDLETOWN, they travel to take on the WHEAT-SHEAF CABIN CREW, having lost to this side at home earlier in the piece. They have been stringing a few wins together recently, and I watched their workmanlike performance last time out. They will have to be at their best if they are to come out on top in this one however.

As to the second sides, Weymouth seconds travel to Bournemouth fourths, a side whom they beat heavily earlier on in the season. They should win this one, but I do not think they will run away with it.

The Bridport second side seems to be finding the going tough in most of their games this season and they will certainly do so at South Wilts seconds.

Both the Dorchester second and third sides play at home, and both face close games. The seconds take on North Dorset thirds, a side who narrowly bested them earlier; while the thirds play Lytchett Minster seconds who beat them 22-

Dorchester U13 59 Fordingbridge 0

DORCHESTER scored an early try through Jamie Brown after a quick sequence of accurate passing but then had to withstand pressure from Fordingbridge with some However following a Dorchester scrum, Casper Bailey peeled off to touch down before Jack Warburton scored their third try which was converted by Bailey.

A counter attack started by George Voss led to another Bailey try, and although the visitors showed plenty of determination Gabriel Whale broke and sprinted in for a converted try.

Playing downhill in the second half and with a strong wind

Dorchester continued to dominate and Brown scored again following Theo Boyesen's offload. Some excellent rucking and defending from Dorchester followed by some slick passing and strong running from Ryan Haskell allowed Warburton in for another converted try, who from the restart ran in unopposed under the posts. A final converted try gave Dorchester an easy and deserved win

Dorchester U16 17 Wimborne 25

WHEN Dorchester finally manage to compete for a whole game they will surely record a convincing victory, but once again the home side concede at least two soft tries which in the end was the difference between winning and losing.

Although an entertaining game it did at times become very scrappy, and with Dorchester allowing the visitors too much time on the ball, they soon found themselves three tries down and 15-0 behind.

Finally Dorchester woke up and applied some extended pressure and were rewarded when Sam Pollard forced his way over from close range. This galvanised the home side and when Pollard caught the restart, some clever inter play be-tween the forwards and backs saw Harry Charlier make good ground down the left flank and score on his first appearance Two more unconverted Wimborne tries saw the visitors lead 25-10 at the break

Now it was Dorchester's turn to put pressure on. A scrum just inside their own half saw them secure clean ball and Charlier made a searing break up the right. A perfectly timed pass saw Chris Lawton, providing support out wide, show his pace by out running the cover defence and touching down. With Harry Smith adding the conversion from a difficult angle, Dorchester were back in the game.

Unfortunately they couldn't find a way through a well organised defence, and the game deteriorated into a scrappy affair with neither side able to impose themselves for more than two or three phases, and eventually petered out with Wimborne shading a good game
